

7 Reasons Why High-Rises Kill Livability

Submitted by AA [1] on 29 September, 2014 - 11:00

What do you do when you're the city of Portland and millions of people are supposed to move into your city in the coming decades and you have an urban growth boundary? Build up, right? To a certain extent yes, but not above the fifth floor, says world-renown architect Jan Gehl. read more [2]
